

What makes a good Pride Party session?

Kids need to want to go! You need a plethora of choices that will engage students of all interests!

Here are a few parties we have had repeatedly:

- Matball or Eliminator in the gym
  - The bonus is a lot of kids can pick this choice!
- Build, Play, and Chill in the library
  - Board games, cards, legos, etc. Games can be provided, or kids can bring their own. Kids have brought Pokemon cards, Bey Blades, etc.
- Bingo
  - This can be a session or everyone together with prizes!
- Movies (shorts, Charlie Brown specials, etc work well!)
- Blookets/Trivia (great for theme days, and kids can help make)
- E-Cafe
  - Kids just are able to have time to play or write on their chromebooks
- J-Cafe
  - Coloring, writing, reading, hanging with friends, nap time, crafting, etc. A coffee shop type of vibe!
- Scavenger Hunt
  - Students work in pairs. They go "hunt" for something stuck up in the halls. They can only bring one back at a time.
- Outside time / Gaga Ball / Field time
- STEM challenges / Escape Rooms
- Other ideas we have done:
  - Taylor Swift Eras Tour, Paper Football, Perler Beads, Origami, Crafts, Kindness Corner

Some parties we have themes - Disney, Jungle, Holiday, etc.

Other times we don't!
